

Airborne – Lifetones – CD Reviews

"Good tunes, excellent professional musicians, warm-toned, yet razor-sharp precision and articulation, attractive lines, colors and interesting contours of the pieces, plus the voicing's are consistent with the idiomatic instrumentation and direction. I am duly impressed with the group's bold assets and content. The band bodes well for the media and in in-person venues"

Dr. Herb Wong - International Association of Jazz Educators – Jazziz

"Highly original, multi-faceted quintet, Standout songwriters capture a variety of musical flavors in highly accessible melodic forms without ever resorting to clichés. Performances executed with great attention to detail reflect the joy of a highly complementary group of players"

Hilarie Grey – JazzTimes

"Cool and slick production of some new and hot contemporary jazz music. The musicianship and compositions are excellent and tasteful. The kind of band that makes people flock to the Newport Jazz Festival"

New England Performer

"Airborne is a group that really epitomizes the concept of a band. Polished professionals, each member contributes to the sound. No one fades into the background. Listening to them is a whirling musical journey packed with emotion and flawless execution"

Mixx Magazine

"The group Airborne describes their music as "High Energy Contemporary Jazz". After listening to their music I can state, there is some great electric jazz here. Nevertheless Airborne always keeps a unique hooking potential to their jazz sound.

Today they present an album which made me sit up and take notice. Yes, they are really professionals. Excellent musicianship and compositions on the whole album"
